FEDERAL PROSECUTORS NEED MORE HELP

Says Daugherty In Annual Report, Expatiating at Length on Increase in Operations

(Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 7.—A new basic judicial organization, to meet the augmented work which has resulted from the "ever-increasing complexity of government," was suggested by Attorney General Daugherty in his annual report, made public here today, on the operations of the Department of Justice. Noting that 60,722 criminal cases were begun in the last fiscal year, the report declared the point was being approached "where a re-vamping of the machinery used in this work is inevitable."

Adoption of some method by which the government could retain attorneys who have special knowledge of government matters in addition to legal training, was one of the several suggestions advanced by Mr. Daugherty. The recently enacted legislation providing additional judges should help the situation, he said, but probably will not entirely remedy it.

"The failure of local self government in parts of the country," the report said, "results in the insistence of the citizens of those communities that the federal government perform that function in which the local government has failed and frequently in matters where there is concurrent jurisdiction between the state and federal government it is difficult to establish a policy as to the extent to which the federal government should take jurisdiction. This is peculiarly true of offenses arising under the federal reserve act, the narcotic act, the Volstead act and the postal frauds act. There has been an effort on the part of this division during this fiscal year to have the United States attorneys and the state prosecuting attorneys meet from time to time for the purpose of co-operation. Evidence of the benefits of these meetings is overwhelming."

"The existing procedure for the removal of a defendant to the jurisdiction where the crime was committed is unduly cumbersome and results in unjustified delay and injustice. Under such procedure the trial is frequently delayed from one to two years."

The report made no comment on the railroad injunction case and merely noted the legal situation arising out of enforcement of the prohibition statutes outside the continental limits of the United States.

"Since the 18th amendment of the Constitution and Title Two of the National Prohibition Act became effective," it said, "rum-running vessels of American and foreign registry, carrying liquor from foreign ports to our shores, have swarmed along our seaboard, smuggling liquors into the United States in violation of our laws."

"Eighteen vessels of foreign registry and 11 of American registry with their cargoes of liquor have been seized. No American-owned vessel can transport beverage liquors. Foreign registered vessels can not transport beverage liquors within American territorial waters. Of the 18 foreign registered vessels seized, 10 were found transporting and smuggling liquors within the 3-mile limit of our shores. The remaining 8 foreign vessels seized were hovering off our shores beyond the 3-mile limit, but within the 4-league zone of our shore line and unloading their cargoes to other boats to be brought ashore in violation of our statutes known as the hovering acts."

"The hovering statutes (Rev. Stat. 2867 and others) provide that no vessel bound to our ports shall unload merchandise within 4 leagues of our shores, unless by a permit, without incurring a penalty against the captain, to satisfy which the vessel may be subjected to forfeiture."

"Foreign governments protest seizure of their vessels thus violating our revenue laws and smuggling liquors to our shore, because international law does not recognize our hovering acts as valid outside the 3-mile limit."

Police Can't Find 'Em

(By Associated Press)

Covington, Ky., Dec. 7.—The police here today were unable to locate any whisky runners who yesterday stole 200 cases of liquor valued at approximately $20,000 from the Burke distillery nine miles south of Lebanon. One truck loaded with 16 cases bearing the Burke distillery stamp, was found near Independence and brought here for storage.

COLD GRADUALLY COMING THIS WAY

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Dec. 7.—There was no great relief today for the northwest from the near zero temperature, as the first cold wave of the winter gradually extended southward. The Pacific slope also had its first touch of winter almost as far south as the Mexican border. The cold threatened to invade Ohio and the lower Mississippi valleys by tomorrow. On the Pacific slope, Washington reported the snow fall showed no sign of a let-up.

HERE'S A REAL LOVE JUDGMENT

except as they may be applicable to our own nationals."

The Attorney General then called attention to the litigation over seizure on which the courts have ruled, or which now are pending.

Post-war espionage by unnamed foreign governments was limited at in the report submitted by the department bureau of investigation.

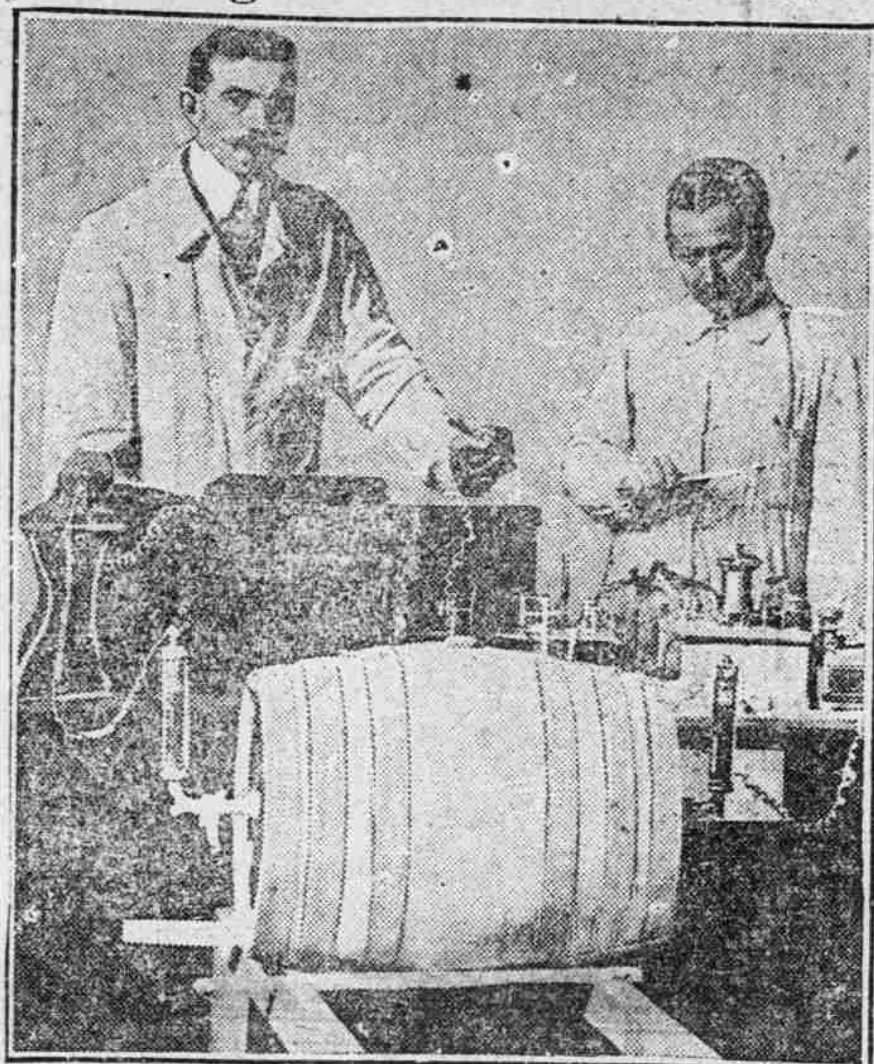

"The attention of the bureau has been directed," Director W. J. Burns reported, "to investigations of several individuals who have posed as representatives of foreign governments, resulting in the apprehension of the persons under investigation."

Attorney General Daugherty recommended legislation, "making it a crime to kill an officer of the United States" while executing a process. He called attention that while it is now deemed a crime to assault or wound an officer engaged in such duty, there is no law dealing with his killing. Need was cited also for a statute making it a crime "for a single individual to defraud or attempt to defraud the United States in any manner and for any purpose."

Mr. Daugherty said work was being pushed on the war contract investigation of the department and that action was being taken, as warranted, with the completion of the audit of each project.

Putting a Kick in Home Brew

Scientists at the Sorbonne University, Paris, have discovered that alcoholic beverages, if given 80,000 to 120,000 volts of electricity are placed in the same condition as if they had been stored away from 20 to 50 years. Here is Professor Charles Henry putting a kick in a barrel of wine by subjecting it to a charge of 90,000 volts.

SPENDING LOTS MORE THAN IN PAST YEAR

(Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 7.—Five million dollars as the second treaty payment to the government of Colombia and a half million dollars for further prosecution of war fraud cases were among the most important items in the 1923 supply bill for the department of state and justice reported to the House today. The total carried in the bill is $33,600,000, an increase of $4,500,000 over last year but a half million below the budget estimate.

PROPOSE INCREASE IN FARM LOAN FUNDS

Washington, Dec. 7.—Rural credits legislation said to have the approval of Administration officials and proposing to create a farm credits department as a part of the present farm loan system, was introduced simultaneously in the senate and house Wednesday by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, and Representative Andersen, republican, Minnesota.

The two bills, similar in most particulars, would make available for farm loans a total of $60,000,000 to be distributed equally among the twelve farm loan banks. The present government subscription to the twelve banks totals only $12,000,000. The banks would be authorized to rediscount farm paper having a maturity of from six months to three years.

The proposed legislation stipulates that farm paper could be rediscounted for national and state banks and trust companies, incorporated livestock loan companies, farm credit companies, co-operative credit companies and other banking institutions.

BALANCE of the Johnny Jones' stock must be sold out completely by Friday, Dec. 8th, regardless of cost as we must give possession of the building at once.

EXCHANGEITES TO GIVE CHRISTMAS CHEER

Will Distribute Baskets to Poor on Christmas Morning—Infirmary Appreciates Gift.

At the regular meeting of the Exchange club Wednesday, practically every member was present to welcome R. Dean Squires, and John Kunkel into the realms of Exchange.

H. L. Donovan was the speaker of the day, and gave a stirring talk on "The Equal Distribution of Education." This was in connection with Educational Week which is being observed all over the country. Mr. Donovan told what vast advantages the town or city child had over the country child in the manner of building the child has to go to, the many advantages the town has over the country, thus enabling the town to have better schooling facilities. He said the only way this could ever be remedied is to have an equal town and county school tax. Mr. Donovan's talk was greatly enjoyed.

President Telford appointed H. L. Donovan, C. E. Smoot, and Hart Perry, as the committee to work up data for the Exchange club's Home Coming Week which will be observed in connection with the pagant.

The Exchange club heartily endorsed and recommended the Turkey Dinner the ladies of the Christian church will give this Saturday in connection with their bazaar, and every member present pledged himself to attend.

By a unanimous vote the club agreed to fill 60 baskets with essential foods, and personally deliver these to the poor and needy of the city. By co-operation with the Welfare League, the club will get the names and addresses of poor families, and Xmas morning every Exchangeite pledged to meet, with cars, to deliver these baskets at the door of the families who are most in need. The club decided that in this manner these people would not have to come out in the cold to get their Xmas. Each Exchangeite seemed enthused with the idea that he was to be Santa Claus to some poor family, and thereby instrumental in making many hearts glad on Christmas morning that otherwise might go unnoticed.

Messrs. Blanton and Smoot were appointed as a committee to meet with the Rotary club committee, and tell the Rotarians what the Exchange club will do, so there will be no duplication in distributing Christmas cheer.

A fine letter of appreciation was read from Miss Scott, of the P. A. C. Infirmary, thanking the club for its Thanksgiving donation. Miss Scott wrote:

"Gentlemen of the Exchange Club, Richmond, Kentucky: "A very fine turkey was brought to us on Thanksgiving Day, and a check for $50 came in this evening's mail. I am sure the ladies of the Board will give you a rising vote of thanks at their next meeting, but in the meantime, allow me to thank you for your munificent gift, and to assure you that the bed linen which your money will purchase will add greatly to the comfort of the patients and to the joy of the nurses."

"Sincerely yours,
"ELIZABETH SCOTT,
"Superintendent Pattie A. Clay Infirmary."

BIRMINGHAM LIKES DR. H. W. CARPENTER

Papers In Alabama Metropolis Pay High Tribute to Preaching of Richmond Minister.

Copies have been received here of the Birmingham newspaper's telling of the closing of the splendid revival services conducted at the First Christian church there by Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, of this city. The News said:

Sunday will mark the close of a very successful revival at First Christian church, conducted by Dr. H. W. Carpenter, of Richmond, Ky., evangelist and Prof. A. L. Boatright, of Hopkinsville, Ky., director of music and soloist.

Never has a stronger series of sermons been preached in Birmingham than the messages brought by Dr. Carpenter. It is believed. He is one of the prophet-ministers of this generation. No one has been heard in this city who has a larger conception of the world task of the church.

Congregation of the First Christian church has been encouraged for its program of enlargement by the utterances of this gifted minister and many homes have entered into the new joy of Christian Discipleship through his ministry in this campaign.

Prof. Boatright has been a most acceptable leader of song and his gospel solos from night to night have been a splendid feature of the service.

Dr. R. N. Simpson, pastor of the church, is happy over the splendid results in this campaign and the effective ministry of these men who have been his warm personal friends for a number of years.

The Birmingham Age-Herald said: "Crowds were turned away from the church, that was filled to capacity by a great throng eager to hear the gifted evangelist from Kentucky, Dr. H. W. Carpenter, who is beginning the second week in an evangelistic campaign."

Dr. Carpenter spoke on "The Unprecedented Christ." Monday night many of the men of the luncheon clubs plan to hear Dr. Carpenter in a service in which they have had special invitation. Dr. Carpenter's message in the afternoon was heard by a throng of men that filled the building and went away enthusiastic over a splendid service.
